

City of Dallas

September 8, 2020

Mr. T.C. Broadnax
Dallas City Manager
1500 Marilla Street
Dallas, TX 75201

Dear Mr. Broadnax;

Please accept this letter as official notification of my resignation as the Chief of Police for the City of Dallas, effective November 10, 2020.

I am extraordinarily grateful for the opportunity you gave me to serve the residents of Dallas. We have accomplished so much by standing together in support of community policing and changes in the way our officers perform their duties in 2020. It has not been easy. These past three years have been saturated with a series of unimaginable events that individually and collectively have never happened in the City of Dallas. I am proud that this department has not only coped with an unthinkable series of events, but we have also managed to implement critical reforms that were clearly needed for the Dallas Police Department to meet our 21st Century Policing goals.

Over the last few months, I have received a number of inquiries about future career opportunities. As you can imagine, for many reasons, I must keep my next career step confidential. Let me assure you that I will remain committed to my true calling which is law enforcement. I will continue my dedication to service, champion responsible police leadership, and promote effective, community-based partnerships.

Thank you again for your unending support. The people of Dallas are extremely fortunate to have you as a leader in these extraordinary and historic times that cities all across the world are facing.

Respectfully submitted,
