Before me, RANDALL JOHNSON a Peace Officer of the State of Texas, on this day personally appeared JODY WARNER DOB _____ Address _____ Phone _____.

Who, after being by me duly sworn, on oath deposes and says: I requested an Uber ride home to my address on _____ around midnight. When we got close to my home, the Uber driver was having trouble locating my condo and we both became frustrated. I was exhausted and had also been drinking and was ready to go to bed. He eventually pulled over about a block from my home and told me to get out of his car, which I wasn't 100% comfortable with because I felt intoxicated. I repeatedly asked him to take me to the address that I had given him, and told him exactly how to get there, but he refused and then said he was going to call the police if I didn't get out of his car. At that point, I became even more frustrated and indignant and invited him to call the police if he felt it was necessary. In hindsight, I wish that I had just walked home at that point, but I didn't want him to get the impression that I believed that I was in the wrong. I told him that I would sit in his car and wait for the police to arrive, which I did. When the police showed up I got out and explained to them what occurred and he drove away after speaking to one of the officers. It was a brief interaction/conversation. I admittedly had too much to drink, and I am embarrassed about everything that transpired. There was never, at any point, any physical contact and/or assault that occurred by either myself or the driver. I was surprised when I read/heard that allegation. That being said, my language and demeanor were inappropriate and I did not represent the District Attorney's Office in the way that the office and Judge Johnson deserve. I should have taken the "high road" and swallowed my pride and walked the remainder or the way home. I am truly sorry for any embarrassment that I have caused the office that I respect so much. I am better than I behaved in that situation, and if I could do it again, I would have taken the high road and removed myself from the situation instead of allowing it to escalate. X
